GAO noted that OPM: (1) was not effectively using its automated equipment; and (2) did not assign and organize its personnel for maximum productivity. GAO found that OPM employees: (1) reviewed each retirement document several times more than necessary; (2) processed documents manually rather than by computerized systems; (3) unnecessarily processed documents at two locations; and (4) delayed processing applications from federal employees who wanted to make their retirement contributions early, resulting in a loss of income to the government.
